

Season 1 Episode 25

Ivan Exiled Part 2

Last time on Ivan's War, Ivan was accused by Karen Yhanzi of having Asperger syndrome and being a danger to the people of the Ultraverse. Keith tried to defend Ivan in court but failed and Ivan, Safron, and Dirk were shipped off to a high security prison. Ivan got a container of Mason's Power Pills from Keith before Ivan was sent off. Ivan got to have one of the pills in prison and he became the Yin-Yang superhero and he fought off all the guards and freed Safron and Dirk and took control of the prison ship. Ivan uses his Yin-Yangite books to find the location of the Yin-Yangite home world and he went there. Little did Ivan know that an assassin was hired by Karen to spy on him and his close friends. Ivan, Safron, and Dirk arrived at the Yin-Yangite home world where Ivan finally got to meet his father for real. Ivan found out that there is no Yin-Yangite prophecy and that all the information in those Yin-Yang books is all hogwash. Ivan's father still encouraged Ivan to fight off the evils of the Ultraverse and put in a good name for the Yin-Yangite people. Ivan's father was shot and killed by the assassin and Ivan went after the assassin. Ivan turned into his Yin-Yang mech with the magic sword and arm cannon again and chased the assassin on a ledge. The assassin accidentally fell off the ledge and Ivan got blamed for the death of the assassin. Karen used this as proof in another court session that Ivan is not to be trusted. Safron and Dirk were let off this time and Ivan is sent to a special prison in the Ultraverse mainland where his arms and legs are tied down with chains. Before Ivan was sent to this, Safron confessed her love for Ivan and that she intends on marrying him eventually.

And Now for the Conclusion...

Keith is in a town with Safron and Dirk. They are with a platoon of monks and they hide on the side of a building. Dirk said, "Is he there?" Keith looks around. Keith said, "It is quiet. It is way too quiet. Something is up." A monk walks out into the street and he gets blasted by a jagged blue beam and he is turned into a small statue. He is then collected by a fat guy with torn up clothes and has a stubble. The fat guy said, "You will make a fine addition to my collection." The monks jump out at the fat guy. The fat guy laughs and blasts down all the monks and they all turn into statues. Safron said, "There's so many of us and one of him and he is winning. What are we going to do?" Keith said, "This will be the first time the monks declared war on an army that consisted of one person. We have to get out of here." Keith, Safron, and Dirk try to run away and the fat guy sees them. The fat guy said, "You are not getting away that easy." He blasts at Dirk and Dirk dodges the blast and runs down a different street. Keith and Safron stay together. Safron takes out her skateboard and she starts skating and Keith jumps on. The fat guy keeps chasing after Keith and Safron. He fires at them and Keith blocks all the attacks with his cyan sword of redemption. Keith and Safron make it to a monk transport. They almost get on and Safron's skateboard hits a bump and they fall off and land in front of the transport. Keith and Safron are about to get blasted by the fat guy. The fat guy said, "I would love to have you in my collection." Dirk jumps at the fat guy and pounds him. Dirk smacks the fat guy and he uses his enhanced agility to dodge the fat guy's attacks. Dirk said, "Start up the transport. I can zip on it." Dirk takes out his extra strong silly string canisters and he unloads them at the fat guy. Keith and Safron jump on the transport and they take off. Dirk gets blasted with the ray and he turns into a small statue. The fat guy aims his ray blaster at the monk transport taking off and he blasts it at them. The transport gets turned into a statue and it falls and crashes in the city. The fat guy stands over Keith and Safron. The fat guy said, "Face it. You can run but you can't hide. There is no getting away from me as I am The Collector. No one escapes my collections." Keith takes out his sword and he slashes The Collector in the belly and he smacks him in the face with the sword. Safron tries to fight The Collector and she gets blasted and turned into a small statue. Keith yells, "Safron!" Keith has an angered look on his face and he jumps and smacks The Collector in the head with his sword. Keith cuts the ray blaster in half and Keith cuts the collection bag off The Collector's back. Small statues of monks pour out. Keith grabs a handful of them and The Collector grabs the rest and The Collector runs away from Keith. Keith places what he recovered in a bag and he takes a commercial transport service back to the Ultraverse mainland.

Keith is in Grand Master Augi's office. Keith shows him the statues. Augi looks through them and he said, "This is all you could recover?" Keith said, "I tried to recover as much as possible but that is all I could get. I was not able to recover Safron and Dirk." Augi said, "Look at this." Augi turns his TV around to Keith and he sees a commercial with The Collector. The Collector appears on the screen and said, "I am The Collector. I am the greatest online merchant in the Ultraverse. If you like collections and digital properties then you are in luck. I have statues of the greatest monks in the Ultraverse which can only be sold online as a very new and high tech thing to collect called, NFTs. Buy your very own NFTs today at unbeatable prices from the greatest collector in all the Ultraverse." TV shows a picture of Ivan and Keith. The Collector said, "It is not them. It is me, The Collector." Keith said, "I have seen all kinds of garbage ads in my universe but this is by far the worst. He has no idea how to promote himself or market anything. I have seen kids in my universe make better ads than this."

Keith is in the Ultraverse library with Roswell. They are on a computer and they look at The Collector's website. Roswell said, "Well, it looks like he lost his mind." Keith scrolls down the webpage and he finds the NFTs of Safron and Dirk. Keith said, "He is selling Safron and Dirk for C10 000 apiece. That is more than my annual salary as a monk." Roswell said, "Us monks don't get paid well. Is that an actual figure that you get?" Keith said, "No. It is just the picture. It is a digital picture only that cannot be copied nor transferred." Roswell said, "Who would pay that much money for a picture that can only be viewed on their computer?" Keith said, "Dumb people and that is exactly what he is marketing this to." There is an explosion and The Collector enters the Ultraverse library and he blasts all the monks he sees and they turn into small statues. Keith and Roswell take out their swords. Roswell flies off to the upper level of the library. The Collector confronts Keith. The Collector said, "Ah, Keith. We meet again." Keith said, "Your business is doomed. No one would ever seriously buy any of your NFTs." The Collector said, "You are wrong. I already got fifty orders this morning. That is C500 000 entering my bank account right now." Roswell is on the upper level and he sees the chandelier is located right above The Collector. Roswell hovers over it and he uses his sword and he cuts the chandelier off the ceiling and it falls and it lands on The Collector. The Collector gets up and he throws the chandelier off him and he appears to be completely uninjured. The Collector said, "Who's the dumb one now?" The Collector takes out his ray blaster and he blasts down Roswell and Roswell is turned into a small statue. Keith runs to a window and jumps out of it. Keith lands in a bush next to the library. Keith said, "He seems to be targeting monks. I guess I won't be a monk now." Keith rips off his monk robes and he throws them into the bush. Keith dashes away.

Keith is in his house in a lesser known region of the Ultraverse mainland. Keith dresses in his iconic white shirt, with a black tie, and a yellow knitted sweater with an orange horizontal zigzag on it. Keith said, "I never thought I would be wearing this again." Keith turns on his TV and Ultraverse News is on. A news reporter is standing in the deserted Ultraverse monk monastery. The reporter said, "Earlier today, a businessman that goes by the name of, The Collector stormed the Ultraverse monk monastery and the Ultraverse library and he turned all the monks he found into these small statues that he is selling on his website as NFTs. I have also been paid to endorse his product. Buy NFTs from The Collector. You have never had a collection that was better than an NFT collection." Keith sees one of the statues the reporter is holding is of Master Augi. Keith said, "It looks like Master Augi didn't even escape. There is only one last hope for this."

Ivan is locked in a heavily guarded prison in the Ultraverse mainland. The Prison Director looks over his guards watching over Ivan. The secretary enters and she said, "The new applicant is here for a job interview." The Prison Director said, "Send him in." The Prison Director takes a seat in his office and Keith takes a seat. The Prison Director looks over Keith's resume and he said, "Mr. Keith. You seem to have a strong background in science and technology. You are proficient in several technical fields and it seems you have the skills that would make an ideal candidate. Let me ask, why do you want this job?" Keith said, "I have come across criminals on several occasions in the Ultraverse that have constantly stolen things from me and I think something needs to be done about this. If we have better security at our top prisons, we would not have to deal with as many criminals in the streets. I have the skills and techniques to improve this place so these prisoners would never again see the light of day if that is what their sentence demands." The Prison Director said, "You have a lot to offer me. Something tells me you would be a valuable asset to the prison. I need new guards and technical people with your skills. Now tell me, how much are you willing to work for?" Keith said, "A minimum wage would suffice." The Prison Director said, "Good. I like people that are willing to work minimum wage without a fuss. All the workers I have here complain about making minimum wage. You won't so that makes you better than them. When can you start?"

Keith enters the main control room where workers watch over Ivan. One of the workers has an aggravated look on his face and he watches over a status screen. Keith said, "Watching the stats?" The worker said, "My whole job is to watch the stats while these other people just sit there and play cards or other games they can think of. This job is not worth minimum wage which is all we get paid. We also get benefits and other rewards but I have not been here long enough to get any of those." Keith said, "I just started today so I wouldn't know either." Keith's watch beeps and Keith looks at his watch and the Prison Director is on the watch. The Prison Director said, "Keith, I need your services with our computer terminal. I need someone to go over the information and I think you are the most qualified since you are the only worker here that knows techy computer skills."

Keith is brought to a computer terminal where it is one single desktop computer that has a text only interface. Keith enters the terminal and he is given access to all the technical stats of everything. Keith looks through the menu and one of the options reads, "Staff and Payroll Information and Benefits." Keith goes to that option and a list of all the employees appears and it shows they all get paid minimum wage. Keith said, "It seems they all get paid minimum wage just like me." Keith goes to benefits and a message appears on the screen that said, "I tell my employees that I will give them vacation time and rewards but the truth is that they don't get any of those and they never will due to how poorly funded the prison system is in the Ultraverse. Damn government.” Keith prints the information and he seals it in an envelope. Keith addresses it to the Ultraverse News Agency.

The news the next morning shows the reporter holding Keith’s letter. The reporter said, “Crime rates are quite high in the Ultraverse and it was believed that is because the prison system is underfunded and the guards don’t get paid enough. I am about to put those rumors to rest. It is the truth. The prison system is underfunded and I have a document here from an insider in the Ultraverse mainland prison that confirms this.”

Keith shows up to the prison and he sees all the workers are on strike. One of the workers looks at Keith and he said, “You can’t let this continue. This is bullcrap.” Keith enters the prison anyways. The Prison Director sees Keith and he said, “Keith, are you still going to work for me despite the information that was leaked?” Keith said, “Of course I will. I take this job very seriously and I will continue to keep working. I also never joined any union or anything of that so there is no order for me to stop working.” The Prison Director said, “I am glad I have you on my side. I am going to try and work something out in my office while you watch over Ivan.” Keith said, “Okay.” Keith watches over Ivan in the control room. Keith turns off all the cameras and he turns off the power to the entire prison complex and the chains on Ivan come undone. The power is out and Keith uses a flashlight and he finds Ivan and he brings him out of the prison.

Keith takes Ivan to a transport ship and they fly off. Ivan said, “Thanks for freeing me. In case you haven’t noticed, Karen Yhanzi is still out and about and she is just going to do something worse to me.” Keith said, “I brought you out because the Ultraverse Monks are in a serious crisis right now. There is an evil villain called The Collectioner and he has turned all the monks except for us into statues and he is selling them as NFTs.” Ivan said, “What are NFTs?” Keith said, “They are useless and pointless digital assets that dumb people think are valuable and collectable. We need to put an end to him. When I was still with the monks, we found out he lives in a city that is made mostly of stone and looks like a place out of ancient history. Despite that, some of the most technically advanced people in the Ultraverse live in this city and The Collectioner is one of them. We need to stop him before he profits too much on the monks. He seems to only like monks. We are the last two missing pieces of his collection.” Ivan said, “Where are Safron and Dirk?” Keith said, “He got them too.” An angered look forms on Ivan’s face.” Keith said, “I know you are special. I know you possess powers that I will never be able to understand. That is why I got a job at that prison only to let you out so we can restore the monks. None of the other known monks are Yin-Yangites.” Ivan said, “Maybe it is better for them that they are statues. We know the Ultraverse sucks. It is filled with strange people and you get labeled as, ‘Aspergers’ if you have fascinations with things and you get sent to prison for it. That is what Karen did to me and maybe I shouldn’t fight for them.” Keith said, “You like being a monk, right?” Ivan said, “I guess.” Keith said, “If you defeat this villain and save all the monks, you may get reinstated as a monk and the Ultraverse Senate will have no choice but to owe you a debt. Without the monks, the Ultraverse is prone to more villains rising. Multisword is probably planning something right now. Taking over the Ultraverse is much easier for him when there aren’t any other monks around. We may be bowing down to a different leader next week if this keeps up.” Ivan gets visions of Multisword, Karen, Convind and other villains ruling over the Ultraverse. Ivan said, “I guess I will help.” Keith said, “Good. We are at his location right now.”

Keith and Ivan walk through the city and they navigate to a store with a big neon sign on it that says, "NFT Store! We Sell the Best NFTs!" Ivan and Keith enter the store and they see the statues of all the monks hanging on the walls. The Collector is sitting behind the counter and he said, "Ah, it looks like the missing pieces of my collection are finally here. You even brought me Ivan. Ivan is the one I wanted the most with all the controversies and all." The Collector takes out an advanced version of his ray blaster. The Collector said, "Check out my new and improved ray blaster. This thing is far more powerful than the one I had before. It has homing beams."

The Collector fires homing beams at Ivan and Keith. Keith draws out his cyan sword of redemption and he uses it to block the homing beams. The Collector fires his ray blaster at Keith and Keith blocks it with his sword. Ivan grabs onto The Collector's store computer and he smashes it on the Collector's head. It does nothing. The Collector pounds Ivan into the floor. The Collector aims his ray blaster at Ivan's head. Keith said, "Take these!" Keith throws a canister of Mason's superpower pills at Ivan and Ivan grabs the canister and he swallows a pill and he becomes the Yin-Yang superhero again. Ivan attempts to fight The Collector and Ivan throws several punches to his belly and Ivan's fists bounce off and they hit Ivan in the face. Ivan drops the pill canister and pills scatter all over the floor. The Collector swallows two of them and he becomes larger and stronger. The Collector said, "Who's the more powerful now?" The Collector fires homing beams at Ivan and Ivan runs in a circle and jumps in a flip and smacks The Collector in the head. The Collector grabs hold of Ivan and aims Ivan into the homing beam. Keith blocks the beam with his sword and he tries to cut the ray blaster in half and it does nothing. The Collector said, "It is reinforced titanium. There is no way your sword can cut it." Keith gets blasted by the ray and he gets turned into a small statue. The Collector laughs and said, "Ha! Your friend is a statue now! What are you going to do about that?" Painful thoughts of Karen and Multisword ruling the Ultraverse flow through Ivan's mind. Ivan gets painful flashbacks of his father getting killed and Safron and Dirk being his friends and they are gone because of the guy standing in front of him.

The Collector charges his ray blaster and he said, "I am charging up a special shot just for you." An angered face never before seen on Ivan appears and a Yin-Yang forms on him. Several Yin-Yangs form around Ivan and Ivan explodes into a Yin-Yang textured silhouette. Ivan lifts his arms and he makes mist and smoke come off all the monk statues and the statues turn back into their normal selves. Ivan uses the smoke and he forms it into a ball and he throws it at The Collector and The Collector turns into a statue. Ivan grabs onto The Collector statue and he breaks it into small dust particles. All the monks are watching Ivan. Safron said, "Ivan! You saved us all!" Safron runs for Ivan and she kisses him. Ivan smiles and he said, "You guys are all my greatest friends and I would not let you nor anyone else in the Ultraverse suffer from the wraths of such villains." Keith looks at the dust from The Collector statue and Keith said, "It looks like The Collector is no more."

Ivan appears in the Ultraverse court again and Karen is aggravated. Monks crowd around the entire inside of the courthouse. Karen said, "Ivan keeps escaping. Ivan keeps using his Yin-Yangite hokey magic and he got another person killed with it. I think at this point, we should just execute Ivan." Master Augi takes the defense stage and he said, "As the Grand Master of the Ultraverse Monks, it is my job to defend the constitution of the Ultraverse and the monk order. It is written that the Ultraverse Monks have been around since the very formation of the Ultraverse interconnected civilizations and the monks are considered to be the true defenders of the Ultraverse and the many universes that reside in the Ultraverse. The Collector captured almost the entirety of the monk order and made them statues. Without the monk order, all the great villains of the Ultraverse would be able to throw their greatest wraths at the people of the Ultraverse and there would be no one left to save the Ultraverse. Ivan allowed the Ultraverse Monk order to continue to exist and he should therefore be reinstated as a monk of the Ultraverse." All the monks give the judge a stern look. The judge said, "I guess it is in best interest of the people of the court that Ivan is to be reinstated as a monk of the Ultraverse. He may have save all our lives on this day." Karen gets angry and she points to Ivan. Karen said, "You are not going to get away with this. One of these days I will prove you are worse than all the greatest villains of the Ultraverse put together and they will have you frozen in an icy tundra somewhere." Safron hugs Ivan and kisses him. Safron said, "I am still sorry about what happened to your father. You still have a family. You still have me and all your other friends." Ivan said, "I guess you are right." Safron said, "Don't worry about what some dumb book says. Just know that if you go your own path you will find the real greatest treasure in the Ultraverse." Ivan said, "I guess that's the case." All the monks return to the monastery and everything returns to normal for them.